Job Description: The Department of Sociology at Baylor University seeks candidates for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position to begin August 2020. The successful candidate must contribute to our health and society area of emphasis in our doctoral program. Preference may be given to those candidates with research agendas in health and religion. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Sociology or a related discipline, a research agenda indicative of scholarly success, and a commitment to graduate and undergraduate teaching. The successful candidate is expected to seek external funding to support their research agenda.

Please submit a letter of application, current curriculum vitae, writing samples, and official transcripts showing the highest degree conferred. If ABD, also send transcript of completed Ph.D. hours. To apply, please go to apply.interfolio.com/65320. Please include names, addresses, and phone numbers of three individuals from whom you have requested letters of recommendation. We will begin reviewing applications on 9/15/19. To ensure full consideration complete applications must be submitted by 10/1/2019. If you have questions regarding this position or the application process contact Sharon.Tate@baylor.edu, 254-710-1165.

Employer Description: Baylor University is a private not-for-profit university affiliated with the Baptist General Convention of Texas. As an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer, Baylor is committed to compliance with all applicable anti-discrimination laws, including those regarding age, race, color, sex, national origin, marital status, pregnancy status, military service, genetic information, and disability. As a religious educational institution, Baylor is lawfully permitted to consider an applicant's religion as a selection criterion. Baylor encourages women, minorities, veterans, and individuals with disabilities to apply.
